Americans' Singing Brings Applause at Edinburg Convention

PEACE BODY MAY BE FORMED

Amendments to the Constitution Are Proposed

(By CLYDE BEALS)

EDINBURGH, Scotland. — (By United Press) — The militant strains of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" rolled thru the packed convention hall here when Rotarians of the world began their formal sessions today.

American Rotarians whose beribboned hats had swung in the air to the rhythm of the hymn, were the first to demand the singing of "God Save the King."

Having practiced the song all the way across the Atlantic, the Americans were letter perfect. Their singing brought great cheers from the delegates of the 24 countries present.

AMENDMENTS PROPOSED

Rotary's desire for some sort of universal peace organization was reflected in amendments proposed today for the constitution.

An amendment added to the clubs objects "the aid and advancement of international peace and good will thru these and professional good fellowship," was submitted by the international board of directors.

An amendment proposed by the eighteenth district in the United States, was that Rotary continue a study of labor problems in the hope of determining a method of agreement.

The Halifax, N. S., club proposed that a committee be appointed to foster international amity.

One amendment. Another with changes in the motto. "Another was that Rotarians who retire from business or change to another field should be permitted to retain membership."

GREETINGS RECEIVED

Many messages were received by the convention. One of these was from Lincoln, Neb., club, which sent greetings. General Pershing was one of signers of the cablegram.

The most striking thing on today's program judging from the applause it won, was a program staged by Edinburg ladies and ladies and representing the 25 countries in which Rotary is established. America, England, India, Japan, Egypt, Spain, Mexico, Argentina, Ireland and Scotland were among the lands represented.

PRISON PAROLES ARE REVOKED

Canton Convicts Illegally Released, Judge Killits Says

(By Associated Press.)

TOLEDO, Ohio. — Federal Judge Killits today ordered four paroles revoked and said that the status of every federal prisoner paroled from the Canton workhouse since January 1, was that of an escaped convict.

John M. Boyer, superintendent of the Canton workhouse, and County Commissioners Jackson, Beck and Firestone of Stark co., were present in court in answer to citations issued on the order of Judge Killits Saturday.

They were asked to explain why certain prisoners sentenced by the local court had been released on parole. Judge Killits then recited the federal law concerning parole of federal prisoners detained in state institutions and said that every parole granted to United States prisoners at Canton has been illegal.

TRIAL IS STARTED

McGannon Again Faces Court on Perjury Charge

(By Associated Press.)

CLEVELAND. — The trial of William H. McGannon, former chief justice of the municipal court, on a charge of perjury, was started in Judge Florence E. Allen's criminal court today. At least three days will be required to empanel a jury, it is thought.

To prevent a repetition of the former trial which was stopped because one of the women jurors admitted discussing the case before she was seated, added precautions are to be taken with all prospective jurors. All persons summoned for examination will be kept separate from all witnesses and other jurors, Judge Allen declared.

Judge McGannon's trial is the outgrowth of testimony he gave while on trial for the murder of Harold C. Kasy, of which he was acquitted at his second trial.

BITTER FIGHT WAGED OVER OHIO ELECTRIC MAY BE DISSOLVED

COURT ASKED TO RETURN LINES

Petition for Dissolution Filed at Toledo by Receiver

PLAN NOW NOT PROFITABLE

Lima is Affected by Proposal—Redistribution Sought

Steps to dissolve the Ohio Electric Railway System as a unit will be taken Monday when a petition will be filed in the federal court at Toledo by B. J. Jones, receiver for the system, asking the court to order the return of the Indianapolis, Columbus and Eastern Railway Company and the other lines making up the system, to the bondholders and mortgage holders of the road.

This action was decided upon at a meeting of the bondholders of the various roads comprising the system, held in Philadelphia, according to Paul C. Martin, Springfield, one of the attorneys for the Ohio Electric.

LIMA IS AFFECTED

The Indianapolis, Columbus and Eastern railway was one of the principal units linked with other electric lines to form the Ohio Electric system; when the consolidation of the roads took place. It extends from Dayton to Columbus and from Springfield to Defiance thru Lima. In the proposed action to be filed by the receiver, redistribution of the property to the various companies will be asked.

The petition to be filed avers that it will be to the advantage of the lessors and their security holders, and to the lessees and its security holders, if the leases which hold the various roads under the one system, be terminated. It is also asserted that under the present leases, the properties cannot be profitably operated.

J. Harvey McClure, one of the receivers for the property and formerly general manager and vice president of the system, was out of the city Monday. He was at Springfield for a conference with other officials of the lines. McClure has been acting for Receiver Jones.

SLAYER IS HUNTED

New Jersey Stirred Over Murder of Little Girl

(By Associated Press.)

MOORESTOWN, N. J. — (By Associated Press.) — Louis Lively, negro, suspected of having slain seven-year-old Matilda Russo, of East Moorestown, was still at large today, hunted by scores of policemen and citizens. During the search a half dozen men have been arrested by the police in this state and in the vicinity of Philadelphia, but all were released after establishing their identity.

Threats against the suspected negro are still heard but the temper of citizens of East Moorestown is quieting as result of the advice given by the Rev. James F. Henrick of Moorestown, at the funeral of the little victim yesterday. He admonished the people to view the situation with calmness and depend upon the law to punish the murderer.

The little girl, daughter of a tailor, was missing a week before her mutilated body was found buried in the cellar of the house where Lively lived. Lively's wife, who is in the Burlington county jail at Mt. Holly, was not at home last week and has told the authorities she knew nothing about the crime.

CHARGES AGAINST SCHOOL UPHELD

Reinstatement of Young at Miami University Demanded

(By Associated Press.)

OXFORD, Ohio. — A demand was to be made upon the board of trustees of Miami University today for the reinstatement of Dr. Arthur Young, who resigned May 9, after the student body of the institution had resented charges he had made regarding conditions at the university. The request for Dean Young's reinstatement, it was said, was decided upon at a secret meeting here Saturday night of the Miami Alumni Association.

It was said the charges of Dr. Young that Miami no longer could be recommended to parents "as a desirable place to send their sons and daughters" were investigated by the alumni and that conditions as described by Dr. Young did exist.

A prominent alumnus of the university and a former fraternity leader is quoted as saying that "conditions such as Dr. Young described did exist and only Dean Young had the nerve to expose them."

The alumni is declared to have adopted resolutions demanding either the immediate reinstatement of Dean Young or the granting of a leave of absence, at the duration of which he be reinstated at an increase in salary.

Dr. Young was dean of the Junior Liberal Arts College and a professor of mathematics of the university.

COUNCIL WILL ATTEMPT TO TAKE STENCH OUT OF OTTAWA RIVER THRU CITY

Scores of residents along the banks of "Hawg Creek," otherwise the Ottawa river, will watch with interest efforts of council Monday to decide on how the stench that makes their lives miserable shall be eliminated.

Council will have the recommendations of the Chamber of Commerce river committee to aid it, besides suggestions made from many dwellers along the banks of the stream.

Ideas on how to solve the problem are at variance. Engineer Vaughn Miller, has made a study of the matter and will report to council. He stated Monday that he had several ideas in mind which council might follow, but he did not care to discuss them in advance. None of the suggestions he stated will involve much expense.

All the Chamber of Commerce wants, according to E. M. Botkin, chairman of the river committee, is to get rid of the smell.

Labor Chief Addresses Federation Convention at Denver

500 DELEGATES PRESENT

From All Sections of United States and Canada

DENVER, Colo. — (By Associated Press) — Unemployment, the open shop, wage reductions, relations with European labor federations, disarmament, the Irish question and recognition of the Russian Soviet government, and more than a score of other major issues were before the forty-first annual convention of the American Federation of Labor which opened for a two weeks' session here today.

More than 500 delegates from all sections of the United States and Canada, headed by President Samuel Gompers and the executive council of the federation, marched into the municipal auditorium where the meeting opened with addresses of welcome by Governor Oliver Shoup of Colorado, Mayor Dewey Bailey and other state and municipal officials.

GOMPERS SPEAKS

The first order of business, after the seating of the delegates was an address by Samuel Gompers reviewing the accomplishments of the federation during the past year and urging a more active opposition on the part of organized labor to its enemies.

The executive council's report, a voluminous document of many thousands of words, setting forth the many issues that face union labor with recommendations to meet the situation, was then read.

President Gompers and the executive council, it was learned today, have taken steps to adjust the situation brought about by the withdrawal of the carpenters' union in the building trades department of the federation. The council remained in session until midnight last night considering the matter, but no announcement was made as to whether a solution of the problem had been found.

UNION'S FOES ACTIVE

While the federation administration was making plans to bring about peace in the department, opponents of the carpenters were planning to bring a resolution before the convention, demanding that the union be ousted if it failed to comply with the decisions of the national board of jurisdiction awards.

President William L. Hutchison, of the carpenters, said that his organization would not recede from its stand and was ready to fight the matter out on the convention floor.

No debate was scheduled for the convention today as the greater part of the time will be taken up with preliminary routine and the introduction of resolutions.

CHARITY FUND FOR LIMA MOTHER IS INCREASING

The trust fund for a worthy Lima mother to enable her to keep her baby when it is born is gradually growing. It has passed the half-way mark and it is hoped that the amount necessary to provide for her until she can go to work will be subscribed by Tuesday night, when the call for money will end.

Unless sufficient funds can be raised in this way this woman, now expecting to go down into the valley of the shadow of death to bring a new life into the world must part with her child as soon as it sees the light of day. It is estimated that $500 will be required in this matter which is being shown by the public was demonstrated Monday when Lima News carrier and street boys brought in their donation, made up of their odd pennies. It totaled $2.50. These boys said they wanted to be the mother and that they had made up the fund from their meagre working capital.

The Lima News has investigated this case and found the woman worthy in every respect. She has been deserted by her husband. She is a deserter from the United States navy. She has four little ones, three of whom are in the children's home. It is hoped that enough money can be raised to allow her to

MELLON OPPOSES BONUS BILL

Secretary of Treasury Claims it Will Disarrange Finance

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON. — Secretary of the Treasury Mellon will oppose the granting of a soldier bonus at this session of congress, it was learned today. Mellon's opposition to the plan developed after it was announced that Senator Penrose and other senate leaders were to confer with him preparatory to taking up the bonus bill.

Mellon's position is understood to be about the same as that of former Secretary Houston who held that the payment of a bonus to ex-service men would disarrange the nation's finances to a dangerous extent.

A sub-committee of the senate finance committee has prepared a bonus bill, although the framers of the measure object to that name and refer to it as an adjusted compensation measure. The sub-committee is to report to the full committee in two weeks and a favorable report on the bill is expected.

The bill has five features but Mellon is understood to oppose particularly the features which call for an outlay of money or issuance of security by the government for the ex-service men.

WOMAN REVEALS KILLING PLOT

Assassins Planned Kaber Murder to Strains of Music

PIANO USED TO DROWN NOISE

Daughter Played as Conspirators Tiptoeed, Confession Says

(By Associated Press.)

CLEVELAND. — Four women are now formally charged with the murder of Daniel F. Kaber, who was stabbed twenty-four times by hired assassins in his home in Lakewood two years ago.

Mrs. Erminia Colavito, 32, was booked on a charge of murder early today after she had made startling revelations to the police. Others charged with the crime and who are under first degree murder indictments are Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, widow of the slain man; Mrs. Marian McArdle, her daughter, and Mrs. Mary Brickel, 69 years old, mother of Mrs. Kaber.

Indications were that further indictments would be returned by the grand jury today. Twelve persons have been named in connection with the murder.

Mrs. Colavito, who was known as a midwife, was arrested in Sandusky several days ago. She is said to have left Cleveland the day Mrs. Kaber was indicted.

STORY OF MURDER PLANS

Mrs. Colavito described in a signed statement, authorities say, how two days before the murder, Kaber's assassins had tiptoed thru his home to get the "lay of the land" while Miss McArdle played a piano to drown the noise of their footsteps.

She also is alleged to have said that the assassins demanded $5,000 for committing the crime, but that "Mrs. Kaber declared she would not pay it unless her husband was killed with some weapon so that she could collect an accident insurance policy." This was denied by Mrs. Kaber.

Mrs. Colavito also related, the officers say, how arrangements were made for committing the murder, how the plans miscarried and were rearranged.

The alleged confession was unexpected and came after several hours' questioning early yesterday, but was not made public until this morning. Mrs. Colavito had been questioned several times but the authorities could obtain few satisfactory answers. Early yesterday she sent for Chief of Police Frank W. Smith, saying "I'm going to tell you the whole story."

BROUGHT TOGETHER

After obtaining the woman's statement it was decided to bring together all women said to be involved in the plot, except Miss McArdle. The officers feared the daughter's influence with her mother might still stir Mrs. Kaber's tongue and balk their efforts.

The women were confronted with Mrs. Ethel Berman, who continued an acquaintance with Mrs. Kaber after the murder and volunteered as a private detective with the object of solving the mystery. It was partly on her evidence that Mrs. Kaber was indicted.

During the grilling which continued from noon yesterday until early this morning, Mrs. Colavito amplified her statements to some extent in Mrs. Kaber's presence. She declared that four men were employed to do the killing, two to use the weapons and two to remain outside as lookouts. Five hundred dollars had been given to Mrs. Colavito, she said, in her alleged confession, to be paid the assassins in part. The money was given to her, she alleges, by a fortune teller who is being held, and who is said to have acted as "go-between."

PAID AFTER THREAT

The $500 was paid, Mrs. Colavito said, after she telephoned Mrs. Kaber that the men had threatened the fortune teller is said to have admitted handling the money, but Mrs. Kaber contradicted both women's statements.

A man who was questioned is declared to have told the officers that Mrs. Kaber offered him a large residence on Euclid-ave, and she pointed out, if he "would do the work for her," and also stated she would give him a big automobile if he would promise to run down her husband and kill him with it. These statements, Mrs. Kaber also denied.

Attempts of the police to apprehend any of the four assassins whose names they know, were unsuccessful up to an early hour today.

According to the officers who early today questioned Mrs. Colavito, booked on a charge of murdering Daniel F. Kaber, the signed statement of Mrs. Colavito in part reads as follows:

WOMAN'S STATEMENT

"It was on the Wednesday before the murder that we went to inspect the Kaber home, learn the arrangements of the rooms and find

MANY EXCUSED IN POLICE TRIAL

Sergeants Goebel and Eberle Agree to Joint Hearing

INTEREST IS RUNNING HIGH

Taking of Testimony May Not Start Monday

(By Associated Press.)

As anticipated by those who have been keeping in touch with the case of former police sergeants John Goebel and Frank Eberle, who went on trial Monday morning, considerable trouble is being experienced in procuring a jury panel to hear the case. Both sides are waging the fight, and it has developed into one of the most heated contests ever witnessed in a police court trial.

Since Judge Emmitt J. Jackson called the case Monday morning until late Monday afternoon more than 30 men were questioned before the 12 could be decided upon.

When the two former officers were arraigned in court last Wednesday, 24 names were drawn from the jury wheel. Of this number only 11 men could act. Monday morning, shortly after the trial started 24 additional names were chosen. It is from this latter list that efforts are being made to fill the panel.

EIGHT ARE CHALLENGED

Because Goebel and Eberle consented to a joint trial the defense is granted the right to make eight peremptory challenges, while the city has only four. At a late hour Monday afternoon, the defense had peremptorily challenged five men, while the city had reached three.

Numerous citizens called were excused by Judge Jackson because they had formed opinions on the case, and were biased. One juror called was excused because of deafness.

The case which is attracting city wide attention was scheduled to be called for trial at 9 o'clock Monday morning. Shortly after 8 o'clock spectators began gathering at the Safety Building in anticipation of the heated fight. By the time the trial was scheduled to start spectators thronged the halls and the stairways of the building.

Judge Jackson, realizing that the police court room was far from being large enough to hold the crowd announced that the case would be heard in the council chamber at the old city building.

All persons present at police court went to council chamber. The trial had hardly gotten under way when the entire spectators' portion of the chamber was filled to overflowing.

When Judge Jackson announced adjournment for lunch only 11 jurors had been procured and the defense had made only two peremptory challenges, while the city had made only one. At this period, however, the battle for jurors had not developed into the tortoise contest that the afternoon crowd saw.

Court was reconvened promptly at 12:30 o'clock, and the task of obtaining a panel was again taken up.

At 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, indications were that only a few witnesses, if any, would be heard Monday.

The 11 jurors who were forming the panel at 2:30 o'clock were:

R. T. Schaffer, E. E. Negelsbaugh, Walter McConkey, Homer Hughes, C. M. Hunter, Carl Bowdle, Rufe Neely, D. C. Canteney, F. S. Laux, Harley Bird and Gene Christien.

Thruout Monday's session, Mayor Burkhardt who is, in the main, responsible for the two former officers being brought to trial, sat with the city's counsel. City Solicitor Garling conferred with Mayor Burkhardt before issuing the peremptory challenges.

While Goebel and Eberle have agreed to a joint trial, and such is being held, Harry O'Connor is Eberle's counsel, while D. C. Henderson is defending Goebel.

Despite the closeness of the council chamber and the fact that no chairs were furnished the spectators, very few left the court room.

Indications are that Judge Jackson will adjourn court Monday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock to reconvene and hear the remainder of the testimony Tuesday morning. Chief Roush is desirous of having the trial completed Monday afternoon but the judge holds out little hope of that.

He has no further public appearing engagements before his departure from England on Wednesday and there is nothing to indicate that he intends adding anything to his side of the departmental incident until his return to America.

SUPER CAMERA IS SCIENTISTS AIM

Wonder Machine Will Be Modeled After Human Eye

EXPECTED IN 30 YEARS

Would Have Self Renewing and Sensitizing Plates

(BY HARRY L. ROGERS)

WASHINGTON, D. C. — (International News Service) — A moving-picture camera comprising within the compass of a vest-pocket kodak most of the attributes of the eye and optic nerve and a great many of the functions of the human brain is the goal toward which scientists are aiming, and it is not unreasonable to expect them to attain it by 1950 or sooner, according to Dr. Henry Hubbard, assistant director of the United States Bureau of Standards.

Speaking before the Society of Motion Picture Engineers here, Dr. Hubbard predicted a brilliant future for the motion picture industry, fairly astounding his auditors with some of his suggestions as to probable lines of development.

Within 30 years, he predicted, scientists will have worked out a moving picture camera which will record in full color, develop the picture instantaneously and telegraph it exactly as recorded to an automatic filling chamber. By means of another tiny mechanism the film will be located and exhibited instantly without any reference to an index, just as certain scenes recorded previously months before are brought up from the storehouse of memory by a mere impulse of the will. This super-camera, as fore-shadowed by Dr. Hubbard, would have self-sensitizing plates on which not separate pictures but a continuously changing picture would be formed and erased after being telegraphed to the storage room. The whole instrument, according to Hubbard, would function automatically and may reasonably be expected not to exceed in size the smallest kodaks of the present day.

EQUIPPED WITH SELF-RENEWING PLATES

"For fear such a camera may be declared impossible," said Dr. Hubbard, "I hasten to remind you that Mother Nature anticipated my specifications by some million years when she gave us two eyes. The result is that each of us has a pair of cameras, self-directing, self-focusing and self-cleaning, the exposed surfaces being cleaned twenty times every minute. These wonderful eyes are not made with hands, but they have automatic aperture adjustments, sensitize and develop their own plates instantly, taking colored pictures in full motion, stereoscopic pictures, telegraphing them exactly as recorded to the optic lobes of the brain, subject to instant recall of our little theatres of the mind."

"The cameras are portable, not larger than the smallest vest-pocket camera of today. The plates are concave, the lenses always in focus, giving a wide angle of more than 90 degrees. The camera is guaranteed to work continuously 16 hours a day for three-score years and ten, and with care will give excellent service for 20 or 30 years longer. These cameras are equipped with self-renewing plates on each of which three processes—sensitizing, development and exposure—are continuous and simultaneous. Mother Nature, as an inventor has done some unpatented miracles and has no copyright on the designs."

out where Kaber slept. Two men known as Sam and Tony, who were to do the work, were with me. "When we reached the home that evening, we were taken thru the halls and rooms. To help deaden the noise we had a small portable pump playing a piano. The two men were told what to do, how to enter the house and how to get out. They were shown the door to Kaber's room.

"It was arranged that the back door was to be open and Mrs. Brice was to be on the porch at 10 o'clock the next night as a signal that all was well.

"The murder was to take place the next night—Thursday. On Friday morning I received a call from the two men. They wanted to know what was the matter at the Kaber home. They said they had been out there the night before, but had found the back door locked and no woman on the porch.

"I called the Kaber home on the telephone and Marian McArdle, the adopted daughter, answered that she could not discuss the matter over the telephone, but asked me to meet her with the two men. That afternoon, Friday, Marian, Tony, Sam and I met on a street corner in the East End.

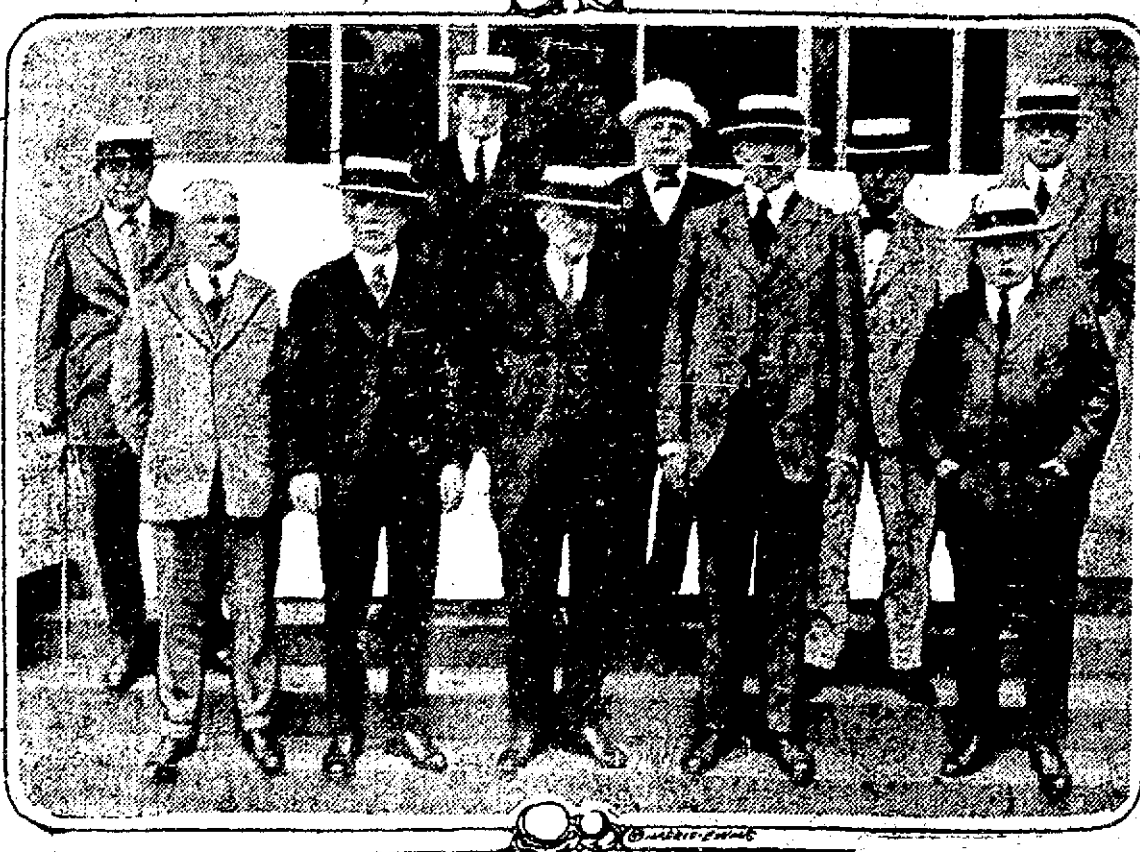

"Marian said: 'Come out tonight and you'll find everything ready.'

"We then discussed new plans. It was decided that the men were to hide out in the rooming house and make the rounds upstairs. When everything was ready and the house quiet, she was to drop some water from an upstairs window, so that it would strike the ground near a basement window. After this I left the party.

"The next morning I read of the murder in the newspaper.

"When Mrs. Kaber came to me the first time and wanted something for her husband's 'nasty habits,' I gave her a bottle containing a mixture of pop and oil that wouldn't kill anything. I did not give her any poison and simply gave her the other stuff to get rid of her."

PUEBLO APPEALS FOR HELP

7,000 Persons Destitute. Says Plea to U. S. C. of C.

PUEBLO, Colo. — (By Associated Press) — Appeal to the United States Chamber of Commerce for relief subscription for Pueblo, was made by Governor Shoup, James L. Lovern, president of the city council of Pueblo; C. L. Gann, president of the Pueblo Commercial Club, and J. F. Keating, chairman of the Pueblo Chapter of the American Red Cross.

The appeal, which will be presented by W. Frank Pearson, vice president of the American Red Cross at Washington, states that Pueblo's need is beyond the resources of the community, that subscriptions have been light, and that haste is imperative.

"Five hundred thousand dollars is urgently needed as a bare minimum sum to do most necessary relief and rehabilitation work in the city of Pueblo, according to a conservative and careful estimate," the appeal said.

More than 1,500 families already have been listed by the Red Cross census as being in need of help. Many of these have lost all they possessed. These families represent an approximate total of 7,000 persons.

"Hundreds of dealers, large and small, have been paralyzed by the flood, which completely wiped out their stocks and ruined their buildings."

"The damage is estimated at between $15,000,000 and $25,000,000, exclusive of the loss to municipal and railroad property, as well as to highways."

"The Red Cross has appropriated $105,000 for relief but general subscriptions to date have been light."

WAR DECLARED ON SOCIALISM

Doctrine Attacked by U. S. Education Head

LEXINGTON, Ky. — (By Associated Press) — War on communism, bolshevism, and socialism, and all forms of government that do not recognize the rights of property and the right of genius to its just rewards was declared here today by Dr. John J. Tigert, United States commissioner of education, as part of the policy of the Bureau of which he is the newly appointed head. A campaign for the furtherance of "visual education" thru motion pictures also will be undertaken at once, Dr. Tigert said.

The first move in the fight of communistic ideas, Dr. Tigert stated, will be to send prominent speakers thruout the United States to deliver addresses on Americanism. The subject also will be stressed in the efforts of the bureau in the schools and thru every medium under its control. A series of ten lectures on Americanism written by Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, pastor of Plymouth Church, New York, will be given wide distribution.

Dr. Tigert showed a new "translucent" motion picture screen, developed by Thomas A. Edison and a number of other men working together by means of which motion pictures can be shown without darkening a room.

ACCUSED OF SWINDLING RAILROADS OUT OF $50,000 BY DISLOCATING JOINTS

COLUMBUS — William Hoke, 50, negro, of Birmingham, Ala., was held to the grand jury under $20,000 bonds here today on a charge of swindling railroad and insurance companies.

During the last 18 years Hoke is alleged to have swindled railroad and insurance companies out of approximately $50,000 by feigning injury, by dislocating his major joints. One of Hoke's favorite defrauding schemes was to pretend to slip on a banana peel in railroad coaches containing foreigners, voluntarily dislocate his joints and proceed to collect accident insurance and damages, railroad detectives assert.

Matter Will Be Brought Before American Legion

The planting of World War Memorial trees along the highways of Allen-co, which is being studied by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce will be brought to attention of the American Legion Friday night by J. Franklin Crow, who will urge adoption of the idea.

The Chamber committee which is studying the matter is composed of Carl H. Grubbs, E. H. Kautler and Miles Standish. They are seeking to arrange conferences with the state forestry department and state highway Commissioner Leon C. Herrick. The matter has also been discussed before members of the Pomona Grange.

Planting memorial trees along the roads is being taken up all over the country and a movement is on foot to plant them along the Lincoln and Dixie Highways from coast to coast and from Canada to the Gulf. A tree for every soldier, sailor and marine who served during the war. The cost is slight if young trees are started and in some where the state appropriates money for propagation of forests, the trees are being donated.

ILL WOMAN TESTIFIES AT MURDER TRIAL

CINCINNATI — "If some one squeals, I still have one bullet left," is the statement that was made by Walter Brockman to Raymond Kingsbury the night following the murder of Harlan Brate, according to the testimony of Susie Mumford, who says she overheard the remark. She said she was with Kingsbury when they met Brockman. Her testimony was read today in criminal court where Brockman is on trial for first degree murder.

Kingsbury, who was jointly indicted with Brockman, turned state's evidence and testified that Brockman fired the shot that killed Brate.

Miss Mumford, who is a patient at the state tuberculosis sanitarium at Mount Vernon, testified by deposition. It was she who gave the first information that resulted in the arrest of Brockman, Kingsbury and William Tieman, who also turned state's evidence.

The hearing was adjourned until tomorrow when arguments to the jury will begin.

STATE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT TO OPEN AT GREENVILLE

GREENVILLE, Ohio. — The state G. A. R. encampment will open here tomorrow morning and residents are preparing to show the Civil War veterans a rousing good time. The city is being decorated today for the event which will close Thursday evening. A large number of veterans have already arrived and tonight will see a big influx of men who wore the blue.

FIRM'S HEAD ONCE DAY LABORER

"Work" Secret of Success. Says James Harris.

SAN FRANCISCO — (By International News Service) Forty-two years ago James W. Harris was working as a day laborer on the tracks of the California Street Cable Company.

Today he is its president, his elevation to that office from vice-president having marked his arrival at the top rung of the ladder a few days ago, after mounting each one step by step from the first job he had with the company two score years ago.

And here is the story of his success as he tells it himself:

"I was a smooth-faced lad, starting out for California and a future, and on the train I met a man who changed my entire life. He was an old miner, and when I asked him about California he said: 'My son, it's heaven for women and dogs and hell for men and horses.' I found out that was true. Men and horses worked hard in those days.

GREAT ADVICE

"The wise old stranger gave me a great piece of advice.

"If you're getting one dollar a day," he said, "earn two. If you're making two dollars earn three, and if three earn four. Make yourself twice as valuable to your employer. By the time you're making five dollars you'll find things are coming your way."

He followed the old man's advice. In the year 1879, this very month, I landed my job with this company. At that time the line only ran from Market-st to Fillmore. I helped lay the line to Central-ave.

"After the road was constructed I came into the bars as a car repairer. Soon I was made foreman, then master mechanic, then superintendent, then a member of the board of directors, then vice-president and yesterday president. I don't know what will happen next. NO GENIUS WORK

It doesn't take genius, only work. I was willing to do anything. I would take the night watchman place if he was sick, or get out and help lay the tracks. Young men often think they can 'get by' and that the boss doesn't notice. They fool themselves."

CANAL TOLL BILL GIVEN O. K.

Provides Free Passage for American Coastwise Ships

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — American coastwise shipping would be exempted from payment of Panama canal tolls under a bill ordered favorably reported by the senate inter-oceanic canals committee.

The committee vote was unanimous after senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, had withdrawn a request that hearings be held.

Chairman Borah, author of the bill, said that since the question was the subject of exhaustive hearings eight years ago there were no need of hearings at this time.

The decision to report out the Borah bill, applicable only to American coastwise ships, rather than the Jones-Poincote bill which would give all American shipping free canal passage was reached, committee members said, because it was believed it would be easier to pass a coastwise shipping bill.

Another consideration, it was said, was assurance to the committee that the British government conceded formally during the Taft administration that this Hay-Pauncefote treaty authorized free tolls for coastwise American ships.

MAN IS INJURED

Suffers Contusion of Back in Fall At Gravel Pit

John Hetner, 25, unmarried, residing on the Marion-rd, east of Lima, suffered contusion of the back when he fell from a shaft at the Westminster gravel pit, Monday. Hetner alighted on his feet falling a distance of 40 feet. An X-ray examination showed the contusion, according to Dr. V. H. Hay, Hetner was removed to the City Hospital in the Williams and Davis ambulance.

4 BIDS RECEIVED FOR PAVING

Wide Difference in Price Shown in Offers Submitted

TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT

Tenders on Underground Work to be Opened

A wide difference in prices appeared in the four bids submitted by contractors at the city hall Monday noon on paving and underground work in five streets. There was considerable variance in prices for both material and labor, the latter item being much less than one year ago. Total cost of the five improvement projects will approximate $17,000.

Competition for the work was not lively, as only four firms, two of them having offices in the city, filed bids. The competing contractors are: The Andrews Asphalt Paving company, Hamilton; The Williams Road Construction company, of Michigan; Summers & Hardin and Curtis V. Rector, Muncie, Ind. The latter entered bids on a portion of the work.

Paving will be laid on the following streets: Market-st, Woodlawn to Glenwood-ave; Elizabeth-st, Water to Eureka-st; S. Broadway, Kibbey-st to Vine-st; N. West-st, Wayne to the Pennsylvania railroad; Elm-st, Collett to Garfield-ave.

TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT All bids were taken under advisement by Service Director Elmer McClain and City Engineer Vaughn Miller. They will be studied and the award made on basis of price and ability of the company to complete the work.

Owing to wide latitude in legislation ordered the improvement to submit prices on several grades of material. It may be desirable to use brick on a portion of the streets if the price is right. Otherwise asphalt will be used.

Bids on the underground work on seven streets will be received Tuesday noon at the city hall. As the contractors involved are much larger than the group received on Monday it is believed by city officials that a larger number of bids will be filed.

CROOKS RETURN TO EAST NOW

Work in California During Winter Months, Expert Says

SACRAMENTO, Cal. — California criminals are migrating eastward to spend the summer months in the exclusive summer resorts and hotels of cities on the Atlantic seaboard and Middle West.

This, according to C. S. Merrill, Superintendent of the State Bureau of Criminal Identification, who is the official California observer in things criminal.

Merrill states that he can check up on what type of offenders are working the state by keeping careful watch of the crimes committed, the manner of their commitment, the loot obtained, etc.

The State identification expert declares that Eastern burglars are less cautious in their movement than "native California crooks." The Easterners shoot off the locks of doors or cabinets they wish to gain entrance to, says Merrill, while California prowlers gently "pick" the locks and, as a rule, have far greater success in achieving their objective.

Between December and April the majority of the locks are shot off, safes are blown up, etc., according to Merrill. After April the California "light fingered" variety are found to be at work, and this is the present situation, Merrill affirms.

"They've left us for the summer," Merrill declared, "but they'll be back by winter as sure as the snow falls in the East. Why? Because these Eastern crooks, like all intelligent beings, prefer California's winter climate to that of the East. Also because they know the wealthy Easterners have a similar inclination, which makes California a profitable field."

CROOKS SHOULD PROVE SANITY

Doctor Declares Present System is Wrong

CHICAGO — (By International News Service) — A criminal should be presumed insane until proven sane.

These psychoanalytical contentions, just made public by Dr. William N. Hickson, head of the psychopathic laboratory of the Municipal court, has aroused a storm of discussion among lawyers, alienists and jurists.

Dr. Hickson has recommended that his contention be made a part of the Criminal Code, with as much weight as the basic presumption, "a man is presumed innocent until proven guilty."

Dr. Hickson in his report holds that it is entirely wrong under the present procedure to place the burden of proving insanity upon the defense in such cases where sanity of the defendant is questioned. He contends that the burden of proving the defendant should rest on the prosecution.

"There is a gradual realization of the complete inefficiency and broadness of our present ideas and methods of handling crimes—a complete realization that our present methods are futile, costly, demoralizing and inhuman both to the public and to delinquents," he said. "Almost all our murderers and most of our suicides give plenty of warning. Now that we know that a typical criminal has a mental defect, it is our duty to find out if we do not segregate him."

Dr. Hickson then declared that the Criminal Code was at fault in presuming criminals sane.

MOTOR MOB RULE BEING PROBED

Activities of Miners Who Raided Foreigners Investigated

PRINCETON, Ind. — (By United Press) — Motor mob rule in Pike and Gibson-co was investigated by a special grand jury today.

The jury will probe the activities of an organization of coal miners, 1,000 strong, which drove foreign labor out of the coal fields and Oakland City, Francisco, Petersburg and nearby mining centers.

No further outbreaks have occurred since early Saturday, when 100 Serbian, Austrian and Hungarian track workers were forced to the their homes at Oakland City and a score of American miners imported from southern Illinois were driven out of Francisco.

W. E. Cox, superintendent of the Ayreshire district coalfields company at Francisco, who brought the miners into the district from Illinois, is expected to be one of the witnesses before the grand jury.

He and his family were driven from their homes after he had defended the action on the ground that the imported workmen held union cards.

Cox told Sheriff Flowers he would be able to identify some of the men who formed the mob.

Foreigners driven from Oakland City are still harbored here today. Some of them told stories of having been robbed of all their savings and one of their number is in the hospital here, suffering from a broken ankle.

AGED MAN KILLED

Workman is Electrocuted on Farm Near Ottawa

OTTAWA — (Special) — John Parker, 60, was electrocuted near here Monday. While mowing weeds on the farm of J. C. Jones he stepped upon a wire charged with high voltage electricity and was instantly killed.

Parker was working along the tracks of the old Lima, Findlay and Fort Wayne railroad when he stepped on the wire which is believed to have been in contact with one of the power wires of the Northwestern Ohio Light Co. which serves Ottawa. All light and power current in this city was shut off for several hours while workmen searched for the defect in the wiring.

A wife and two daughters survive. Parker who was a laborer employed in and around this city.

ORTHWEIN MURDER CASE OPENS TODAY

CHICAGO — The fight to send Mrs. Cora Orthwein to prison for the alleged murder of Herbert P. Zeigler, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company sales manager, started today.

Prosecutor Lloyd Heth announced in court today, just before the state's witnesses were called that he would not ask the death penalty for the defendant.

The state will attempt to prove that Mrs. Orthwein shot Zeigler because of his attentions toward Mrs. Charlotte Lewinsky. "Kissing blonde." The defense claims that Zeigler was shot after he broke into Mrs. Orthwein's apartment in a drunken frenzy.

Mrs. Orthwein, during her trial, will be confronted by Ralph Orthwein, her second husband, and millionaire Kansas City broker.

SACRED COLLEGE TO CREATE NEW CARDINALS

ROME — Creation of three new cardinals was expected when the sacred college convened here today at a secret consistory. It was understood that Monsignor Tacet Porcelli, the papal major domo; Monsignor Ratti, the nuncio to Poland and Monsignor Laurenti, secretary of the congregation of the propaganda, would be named to receive the red hat. Today's secret consistory will be followed by a public consistory on Thursday, at which the insignia of cardinals will be conferred on Monsignor Ragonese former nuncio to Spain, Juan Benchoy, Vito archbishop of Burgos, and Monsignor Francisco Vidal y Barquera, archbishop of Tarazona who were created cardinals at the March consistory.

PLAN WORLD WIDE HOSPITAL DAY

First Holiday Successful in U. S. and Canada

EDUCATIONAL MOVEMENT

To Communicate With England and European Institutions

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press) — A quarter of a million people, many of whom had never been inside a hospital before, paraded thru hospitals in all parts of the United States and Canada on the first National Hospital Day, according to a statement by Matthew O. Foley, executive secretary of the National Hospital Day Committee, today.

The National Hospital Day Committee still is at work on reports from institutions that participated in this first organized effort to make the public better acquainted with its hospitals and indications are that the "roll of honor" of institutions that were pioneers in this educational movement will reach the 2,500 mark.

Uncle Sam occupies a prominent place on this roll of honor, for, according to reports from Surgeon General Cummings' office, every government hospital arranged a program for National Hospital Day.

After originating and organizing the movement that put an international holiday on the calendar in less than two months, the National Hospital Day Committee now plans a world-wide Hospital Day observance. Mr. Foley, in communication with George F. Baker, president of the incorporated Association of Hospital Officers of England, and other officials, relative to participation by European hospitals, and thru church hospital affiliations plans similar observance in other parts of the world.

FACTORY REPORT ENCOURAGING

Manufacturers in Fourth District Show Increased Sales

CLEVELAND — Reports from manufacturers in the fourth federal reserve district for April were encouraging, but some disappointment is shown where the expected increase in sales has failed to materialize, says the monthly report of the fourth federal reserve bank.

Passenger automobile and automobile body business show improvement, and the rubber industry is said to show a slight let-up over the preceding month, the report said.

"Business in the agricultural implement line continues dull," the review continues. "One hardware manufacturer reported wagon hardware sales the lowest in 40 years."

"The volume of sales in the tool manufacturing line is reported as slightly less than for the preceding month. April is reported as the poorest month in years in the moulding machine line. Business in the laundry machine line is reported as showing a healthy increase over March. "Orders in the tin can industry are falling off. Manufacturers of paint and white lead report a steady improvement in their trade."

CASE CONTINUED TO PERMIT NEW PETITION

Introduction of testimony by J. H. McGinness, executor of the estate of John Middaugh, deceased, in the case in which Mrs. Ella Smith, as executrix, was plaintiff, services, showing that all bills were paid and receipts held for the same, caused a continuance of the case shortly after the noon hour Monday.

Attorney James J. Weadock, for Mrs. Smith, said that had he known of these receipts and checks it might have changed her plan of procedure. Judge Becker held Attorney E. T. Lippincott for McGinness could not introduce testimony not included in the pleadings.

Lippincott asked a continuance of the case until such a time as he can file an amended petition, which was granted. The hearing will be at date, not yet decided upon. Mrs. Smith asks $4,580 for services in caring for Middaugh in his last illness.

'OPEN SHOP MEANS FREEDOM'—GARY

Steel Magnate Renews His Attack on Unionism

"SHUTS OPPORTUNITY DOOR"

Gives Views in Speech at Syracuse University

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — (By United Press) — Opportunity, industrially offered fully only thru the principles of the open shop, Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, declared in the commencement of Syracuse University today.

"Industrially," he said, "the individual can realize the full advantage of the opportunities which this country offers, only thru the principles of the open shop as distinguished from the dominance and arbitrary control of the union labor leaders."

"The platform of the labor union leaders is the anti-thesis of the principle of equal opportunity."

Speaking on the subject "Opportunity," Gary declared, "in the world's history, labor, so-called, was never heretofore more highly respected nor treated as liberally as it is today."

UNIONS ATTACKED
"There are many reasons," he said, "why the accumulation of capital should be encouraged and protected, why its possession by an individual, a corporation or a state always has been and will continue to be considered honorable and desirable."

Citing the demands of labor leaders for standard wages, check off system of collecting union wages, the principle of seniority and abolition of company unions, Gary declared they shut off opportunity by nullifying individual qualification, industry and disposition.

"The open shop," he declared, "means freedom to the employee to engage in any line of employment, at any time and place, upon terms and conditions voluntarily agreed upon between employer and employee."

The closed shop means that one deserving employee can secure a place only on terms approved by under leader or leader. Lacking jurisdiction over the particular shop, Gary declared.

LABOR RESTRICTIONS
"The closed shop contracts directly with the labor leader, by virtue of which conditions of employment and operation are fixed. As a rule, if not universally and invariably in practice, no one is permitted to engage or remain in employment in the closed shop, unless he is a member of a labor union and carries the union card. The employee is restricted in quantities of production, particular kind and character of work, in promotion, regardless of just desserts and in many other respects detrimental to his freedom and independence."

"Union labor leaders generally publicly refuse to acknowledge some of the facts concerning unions and they make various claims against the open shop which are not based on facts."

"The great majority of the people of this country stand for the open shop, open ports of all countries, open covenants with other nations, open discussion of all important questions and the open shop, and with this freedom and justice for all."

WORK OF CAPITAL
"The material progress and prosperity of any and every country, are

Police bearing casket from church down Broadway with escort of policemen and reserves.

Laura Bromwell, daring girl aviator, who was killed when her plane fell while she was looping the loop, was buried with the pomp and ceremony usually attending the funeral of a national hero. She was a captain in the New York police aviation service. She recently looped the loop 109 times in succession.

The only alternative to the use of capital, he said, is the suggestion that the government forcibly take possession of all capital and distribute the income derived from it amongst the people.

That plan, he said, "would smother ambition, enervate the body, remove competition for legitimate success in every line of activity, destroy incentive for development and progress and create a nation of laggards, weaklings and paupers."

"Growing out of the illogical and condemnatory doctrine above described is another even worse."

"The virulent and abhorrent disease, masquerading under different names has been gnawing at the vitals of Russia. Anarchy is a generic term for it. Sovietism is most commonly used at present. It has spread and destroyed."

"If our people will study the facts about this vital question, there will be no epidemic here. Homes will not be robbed and desecrated here thru brute force."

"If it should be urged that accumulated wealth exceeding certain amounts and possessed by organized capital should be subjected to governmental inquiry and restriction in its uses, there might be no objection to a fair and reasonable enactment covering this question, provided organized labor should also be subjected to the same statute."

"I prefer the man who talks less in favor of the working man and does more. Talk is cheap and often quite profitable to the speaker. Labor and capital alike use independence. Outsiders often seek to seek to antagonize them. This is especially true of many self-appointed labor union leaders. I do not indulge in personalities."

Deputy Sheriff Clarence Fraunfelter took C. P. Craig, Delphos forger, to the penitentiary Monday, to enter upon his sentence. Craig was arrested in Detroit, after securing $72 from Riner Davis on a bogus check. He pleaded guilty following indictment here for forgery by the recent grand jury.

RURAL PASTORS TO ATTEND SCHOOL

Two Weeks Course At Ohio State in July

STUDY CHURCH PROBLEMS

Religious Education and Country Life Problems to be Studied

COLUMBUS. — (By Associated Press.) — Significant of the importance which rural leaders and agricultural experts attach to the country church as a center of community life and development, the summer school for rural pastors, to be conducted at Ohio State University in July, represents a co-operative effort of the University's College of Agriculture and the Ohio Federation of Churches.

The two week's course, it is said, is designed to give the country pastor a basis for more intelligent handling of farm and rural life problems, as well as for the successful development of the purely spiritual side of the church's work.

Members of the faculty of the University and the extension staff of the college of agriculture will share places on the instructional staff for the school, with church officials and pastors from various parts of the state. Extension Director H. C. Ramsower will speak on "Extension Work and Christianity."

Athletic Director L. W. St. John of the University will conduct an open forum on "The Churches and Recreation," and, assisted by George M. Trautman, basketball coach, will direct the ministers in the daily recreation period, which are a part of the curriculum.

Practical problems of church management and religious education will be attacked in talks by various speakers on such subjects as "An Up-to-Date Church Building," "Rural Church Finances and Records," "Equipment of a Modern Rural Church," and "Leadership Enlistment and Training."

Besides church leaders and pastors, and University instructors, the faculty for the school will include representatives of the Ohio Sunday School Association, the Ohio Federation of Churches and the state department of health. President W. O. Thompson of the University will deliver a special sermon Sunday, July 17. President W. G. Clippinger of Otterbein College, chairman of the educational committee of the Ohio Federation of Churches, will lecture on "Educational Evangelism."

The school will open Monday, July 11, and extend thru Friday, July 22. There will be no fees for registration. The Baptist and Reformed Churches are planning to tenting.

When Baby Complains.

THERE ARE MANY WAYS a baby has of expressing any pain or irregularity or digression from its normal condition of health and happiness. A short sharp cry, a prolonged irritated cry. Restlessness, a constant turning of the head or of the whole body, fretful. In these and other ways a baby tells you there is something wrong. Most mothers know that a disordered stomach, or bowels that do not act naturally are the cause of most of baby's sufferings. A call for the doctor is the first thought, but in the event of any delay there should be ready at hand a safe remedy such as Fletcher's Castoria.

Castoria has been used for baby's ailments for over 30 years and has merited the good will of the family physician in a measure not equaled by any other baby's medicine because of its harmlessness and the good results achieved.

And remember this: Castoria is essentially a baby's remedy and not a cure-all for every member of the family. What might help you is too often dangerous when given to a babe.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Let's Think It Over.

There is such a thing as saying too much on any subject, and the "grand-stand" talker sooner or later becomes a bore. The truth is always welcomed, and the truth reiterated and confirmed is more than welcome—it reaches your innermost soul.

Fletcher's Castoria is all its advertising has claimed for it. Scrutinized by the microscope of public opinion and used for over thirty years it stands without a peer in the hearts of thoughtful, cautious, discerning Mothers. And once used, mother love—there is no substitute for mother love—will scorn to try a "substitute" or a "just-as-good."

Masquerading under many names drugs that are injurious to the tender babe have found their way into some households, but the light of experience soon casts them out. Are they cast out before it is too late? MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA.

STATUE MAKES FIREWOOD

It is seldom that statues are erected in honor of the living, but it is also likewise seldom that the results of such expression of honor and esteem by the people for one of their number is attended by such an outcome as that of the popular movement to do honor to the then great Hindenberg in Berlin.

During the war a great wooden statue of the military leader was erected in a public place in the German capital, on the "Avenue of Victory." It is now being chopped up by peasants and used as firewood. As a means of raising money to prosecute the war charities, the people of Berlin contributed coins for the privilege of driving nails in the Hindenberg statue.

It was made a sort of idol-worship, when Hindenberg was in the heyday of his power. Personally he was the idol of the Germans. During the past few years, since the German armies were vanquished, the great statue was disintegrated by the elements in such a manner that it threatened to topple over. The mighty have fallen and the substance of the figure is being distributed to keep the stoves going and homes warm.

Had Hindenberg emerged from the war a victor, it is quite probable that the wooden image would have been supplanted by one carved from silver or gold and the allied nations would have had to foot the bill. But, since things did not go that way, the Berliners will have to content themselves without a real statue of the former great military strategist, whose demands for men and money wrecked the empire he represented and at last landed it shattered and shuddering on the rocks of defeat.

One more of the elements that steadied the citizens of Berlin and helped them out in the dark days in strengthening their belief that they would eventually win has passed from view. Statues of the former emperor, many of them, have been taken down, the metal used for other purposes of more profit and value. Germany hasn't altogether found herself, but it is unlikely that monarchy and militarism will find a place there again.

TROGLODYTE DISCOVERED

JUST how it was possible for a troglodyte and a woman at that, to make her home on the top floor of a business building in the heart of the city of Columbus, for a period of 15 years without discovery, is something that is not easy to understand. Yet it was done.

It was only a few days ago that a wizened old woman was found occupying a room on the top floor of a High-st business block, opposite the capital, while the affairs of a city of a quarter of a million passed underneath her window, grimy and dust encrusted.

Twentieth century traffic hurried along the busiest street in Columbus, while behind the dirty window pane, finally discovered by painters, the woman lived in primeval state, as a hermit in a cave. She left early in the morning.

ing and returned to her retreat late at night. No one ever saw her come or go and she paid no rent. While her existence was suspected, it was not known. After being discovered, the woman disappeared and all efforts of the associated charities to locate her have been of no avail.

The order is to be complimented for this valuable service.

COMPARISON OF SALARIES

ARMY officers, like school teachers, are required to exist to some extent on glory and take as part compensation for their services the knowledge that they are performing a valuable duty.

General Pershing, the head of our army establishment draws a salary, everything included, of $21,000 a year. At first glance this appears to be a large figure. It is in fact the largest salary paid to any man in our government's employ with the exception of the President.

When this annual pay is compared to that which the ranking officer of a private concern, comparing in magnitude with the military establishment of the United States would receive, it appears nominal. And to prepare for the high army post requires as much time and diligent climbing as does the private occupation.

THE PROBLEM OF RELATIVITY

MUCH is heard nowadays about the theory of relativity, advanced by a noted scientist. Few people understand the theory as a scientific matter, but there is a relativity of the high cost of living to our mode of living that concerns everyone and must be solved. When people realize that they cannot live beyond their income and expect to keep their heads above water then they will understand a principle which will be far more valuable than that set forth by the learned doctor.

WHEN PEOPLE ARE HUNGRY

WHEN people are hungry and idle they do not think normally. Food and work will restore the world's peace quicker than armies can do it.—Rep. Summers (D) Texas, in Congressional Record.

A LITTLE SLICE O' LIFE.
A Presbyterian Sunday school teacher At Atlantic City, who is also A champion swimmer and diver, And president of the swimming club, Doesn't think much of the rules Adopted by the beach censor, Regarding stockings. She says Stockings and skirts are nuisances To young women who want to swim. The stockings get full of sand And the skirts are in the way And actually endanger a swimmer. "Atlantic City regulations," she says, "Make girls wear more clothing When they go into the water Than they wear on the street. Stockings, especially silk ones, Fail to improve morals. Bare legs are preferable." And there is quite a row Over the thing going on now. Those are the rules they expect To enforce at Coney and other resorts. We don't believe the rules Go quite far enough. We believe Every young woman who bathes Should wear woolen stockings. A complete street gown With skirt reaching to ankles And hooked to the same. Hip boots, a large fur coat, Sunbonnet covering the face, Large green umbrellas, and all The time she is in she shall Stand in water up to her neck. There is nothing like having A free country.

JUST FOLKS—BY EDGAR A. GUEST

GRIEF'S ONLY MASTER

Into the lives of all
The tears of sorrow fall.
Into the happiest hearts
Grief drives her darts;
No door however stout
Can shut Death's angel out.

Vain are the things we prize,
Treasure and pomp's disguise;
They cannot stay the tear
When the true griefs appear.
Where Death will strike today
Gold cannot bar the way.

There is no joy secure,
No peace that shall endure.
No shield that man shall keep.
God wills that he must weep.

And in his darkest hour
Vain is all earthly power.
What, then, should guard the gate?
How shall a man be great?
Thru dark days and long,
What power shall make him strong?
Wherein does courage lie,
Since all he loves must die?

When sorrow binds his hands,
Helpless the strong man stands.
One master only grief
Bows to, and that's belief—
Faith that he'll some day know
Why God hath willed it so!

Why "Wear-Ever" utensils SAVE FUEL

All "Wear-Ever" utensils are made of hard, cold-rolled, EXTRA-THICK sheet aluminum which has been subjected again and again to the enormous pressure of gigantic rolling mills. This makes the metal hard, dense, rigid and durable.

Because of this EXTRA thickness, extreme hardness and great density, the metal used in "Wear-Ever" utensils retains more heat than ordinary aluminum. Hence, "Wear-Ever" utensils cook more quickly and still use LESS FUEL than wares that are made in the usual manner.

LOIS WEBER HAS MADE HIT IN LIMA

"TOO WISE WIVES" IS HER NEXT OFFERING--THEATRE NEWS

SINCE the showing of two Lois Weber productions in this city, the theatre-going public has waxed enthusiastic about this new woman producer and the brand of photoplays which she releases. Truly, her "What's Worth While" was one of the most realistic and thoroughly entertaining films we have seen this season. The cast which appears in all of Miss Weber's plays is a remarkable one and while they were all practically unknown before the release of the initial Weber picture, they are now among the most popular of recent-day players.

"Too Wise Wives" is the next Weber production scheduled for this city. Again Miss Claire Windsor and Louis Calhern have the leading roles, with Mona Lisa in an important role. Claire and Mona are the wise wives.

As you have probably noticed, Lois is long on detail. Each and everything has to harmonize and the scene is not taken until it does. The too, the photography in all Weber pictures is one hundred percent perfect. Ambitions realized. Do you remember when Lois Weber played in comedy-dramas? She had always wanted to be a producer, but in those days it wasn't the lady-like thing to do. Now Miss Weber is hailed as the foremost woman-director in the business, a producer without a peer.

"Too Wise Wives" will "get over" big with the women. Many of the situations may not get over with the men but it won't bore them in the least.

PRISCILLA SHOWS GENIUS IN "REPUTATION."

IN "Reputation" to my way of thinking, Priscilla Dean makes her debut as a great emotional actress. Her work has always been more or less convincing, but she shows flashes of real genius as a brilliant mother gone to the dogs, and as that mother's clean, clever and beautiful daughter. She drinks the degrees of degradation and is a bedraggled and horrible thing to look at. She knows love and ambition realized and is a beautiful thing to look at. Nobody ever made a dual role more explicitly dual. The story's like this. Pauline Stevens, a small town girl, leaves her husband and child and runs away to the lights of Broadway. Her extraordinary beauty and magnetism gain her a foot-hold. Willing "angels" fall beneath her spell.

During a barnstorming tour, she visits a town where she had once been her home. Here the company pulls a publicity stunt, where the star personally distributes apples to the children of an orphanage. One of the youngsters demands a kiss. She makes a remarkable impression on the actress, then known as Laura Figlan, who later discovers that the little one is her own. The husband and father has

"BILLIONS" STARS THE EXOTIC MILLE NAZIMOVA.

THE long-advertised "Billions" has finally arrived and while it's alright as pictures go, and gives the great Alla Nazimova a rather fitting role, we couldn't exactly classify it as a world-beater. However, this squeegee reviewing department isn't always faultless (like the dry cleaners). You may like "Billions" immensely. Nazimova is one of the few screen actresses who can wear clothes that are actually frakish, and get away with it. In "Billions" she wears long, trailing coats, a queer-looking tennis outfit and one of her famous batik-looking negligees, but she wears 'em well. She's cast as the Princess Trilova who comes to America to escape the clutches of the Russian royalty. She falls in love with a poet who, like all poets, is extremely poor and lives in a garret.

His rich uncle or somebody obligingly dies and leaves him all his money. See then, respectable poet living in a pretentious California hotel, with all the girls doing their damndest to win favor. But

HERE'S A MOMEDY THAT YOU NEEDN'T DODGE.

WHILE waiting for the features, I have to sit thru lots of comedies, don't you? Some you like, some you don't mind and some—awful!

However, we intended to say that one of the really comic comedies of the week is "The Bakery" with Larry Semon. Mr. Semon does many of his old tricks, and many new ones in this comedy, which, as its name implies, is terribly messy.

Dough, dough, and more dough, is much in evidence. It is thrown

"MOTHER O' MINE" HAS A PEACH OF A CAST.

"MOTHER O' MINE" which is one of the season's new releases, includes Floyd Hughes, Joseph Kilgour, Betty Ross Clark, Betty Blythe and Claire MacDowell in the cast.

It's a story of a youth who goes to the city, at his mother's instigation, to find employment with a man whom he afterwards discovers to be his father. The plot revolves around the mother's self-sacrifice—her determination to get the best for her son, no matter what the cost to herself.

And speaking of Betty Blythe, did you know that Sam G. Blythe, the well-known political writer, is her uncle? He is.

The usual Monday morning cases in police court were heard earlier than usual by Police Judge Emmett J. Jackson, to clear the docket in time to call the Goebel-Eberle trial at 9 o'clock.

RUBY DE REMER, ACCREDITED AS "MOST BEAUTIFUL BLOND IN AMERICA"

It seems only fair that when an actress has been acclaimed as the "most beautiful blond in America," that picture fans should be given every opportunity to see her pretty face. That is one reason why I am showing this very newest picture of Ruby de Remer, who was designated by Helen, the famous French artist, as our "most beautiful blond."

Miss de Remer has been given another title recently. She is now called by her friends out Los Angeles way, the goddess of the mountain, because she has chosen as her abode the highest point in the Hollywood hills, so far above the maddening movie throng that few dare scale it except in airplane or the most expensive elevator. She has named the place "Sunset," but says that is not a true description for the clouds park right in her front yard. But the day the photographer visited the sun was keeping faithful tryst, as the picture shows.

Miss de Remer is to be featured by Associated Producers in Frothingham productions. The first, from Oppenheim's novel "Passers-by," has been completed at the Brunton studios. It may be called "The Black Fox" when it appears on the screen. Lewis Stone will play opposite Miss de Remer.

MUSICIAN GETS SHOCK

Jan Kubelik, the famous musician, was a recent visitor to the West Coast studio of Universal. It was his first peep into a studio and a bit bewildered, he watched Frank Mayo at work and later got a real thrill out of a serial cave set in which a prop skeleton was hanging. This skeleton vibrates continually with the slight breeze from a high-up window. As Kubelik came suddenly into the dark of the cave his artistically long hair fairly stood on end.

GOSSIPY BITS

Anna Q. Nilsson once was model for such famous artists as Penrhyn Stanbury, Harrison Fisher, George Dana Gibson and Howard Chandler Christy.

Two Italian-made films, "Theodora," from the famous Sardo play, and Gabrielle O'Annunzio's "The Ship," have been bought by Goldwyn for showing in this country.

Blanche Sweet has recovered from her recent illness and is back at her Hollywood apartment.

Mildred Davis got her first part in pictures by doubling for Louise Lovely during the latter's illness.

Clara Kimball Young, besides once having been a musician, has composed several musical works.

WERNER CASE TUESDAY Joe Werner, 68, 639 N. West-st, arrested Saturday night on a charge of having intoxicating liquors in his possession, will be arraigned in police court Tuesday morning, according to Chief Roush. Werner was to have been arraigned Monday morning, but was postponed because of the Goebel-Eberle trial.

Akron Woman and Husband Both Resored by Tanlac Enjoy Splendid Health

STATE CANAL INSPECTION WILL BEGINTOMORROW

COLUMBUS—The legislative committee which is to investigate the state's canal system with a view to recommending future control of the old waterways, will leave for inspection Tuesday at Portersville. While there the committee will also inspect the proposed game preserve in Scioto-co.

"My husband took Tanlac three years ago and I took it a year ago and we have both been in the best of health ever since," declared Mrs. Nova Turner, 205 Park-st, Akron, O.

"We have told all our friends about Tanlac," she said, "and have even written home about it. It certainly is a grand medicine."

"My health had begun to fail rapidly. My stomach and liver were badly disordered and I had lost my appetite. At times I had awful spells of weakness and would feel almost deathly sick. At night I had scary dreams and would wake up at all hours—just simply didn't know what sound sleep was. My housework was a burden and I was so weak and run-down I felt drowsy and draggy from morning till night."

"The reason I tried Tanlac was because it had restored my husband to such perfect health and I could tell before I had finished my first bottle that it was helping me. Why, I actually gained nine pounds in the first ten days and I just felt like a different person entirely. In all I took five bottles and to this day have perfectly splendid health in every way. Tanlac is our family medicine now and as a spring tonic it is just fine."

ORGANDIE AGAIN HEADS LIST OF SUMMER FABRICS

By ELOISE
Organdie always makes up most alluringly for summer frocks and every shop has proof that this is so. All the dainty colors in the rainbow are used and dark browns and blues as well. Tunes, drills panels and deep hems are the usual trimming features. Organdie may make the entire frock or it may be combined with voile, silk, gingham, linen, dimity or swiss. Different colors of organdie are also often combined in the same frock. Brown and tan is a favorite color combination. This costume pictured here is just more proof that organdie is the true summer favorite. The embroidery in no set design and the petal edged panels both add in making this violet colored frock a delightful summery creation. Pleating trims the blouse and skirt and outlines a diamond shaped piece on the sleeves. A charming hat may be made to go with this frock by embroidering the same design on the crown or brim made of a violet colored organdie.

COURT TO PASS ON SOLDIER FUND

Trial Starts to Determine Use of 83rd Division Trust

CINCINNATI — (By Associated Press) — Trial of the friendly suit to determine what is to become of a trust fund of $112,000 raised by public subscription in Ohio for the members of the former eighty-third division, U. S. A., was opened today in Judge Stanley Roettlinger's common pleas court room. Among those present was Major General Edwin F. Glenn, who was commander of the division here and in France.

The suit was brought by William Cooper Procter, one of the trustees of the fund, who is asking the court to direct how it shall be used. Other trustees to attend the hearing are Samuel Mather of Cleveland, and John Willys, of Toledo, automobile manufacturer.

According to the suit, the fund was raised when General Glenn was in this country and was given to him unreservedly to be used for the benefit of soldiers in the eighty-third division. When the order came for General Glenn and the division to go to France, the fund was turned over to Procter, Mather and Willys as trustees.

On the breaking up of the division the question arose as to the disposition of the fund.

BODY IS EXHUMED

Death of Cincinnati Woman to be Investigated

CINCINNATI — (By Associated Press) — Charles Wals, mechanical engineer of this city, declared today he wanted the fullest investigation of the death of his wife, when told that the body of the woman, who died a week ago Sunday, had been exhumed and that the organs had been sent to the state chemist in Columbus for examination. The exhumation was made at the request of Mrs. Anna Wolf, New York city, who told Coroner D. C. Handley she was a niece of the dead woman. The body was buried in Hamilton and when Mrs. Wolf was told that this was in another jurisdiction she communicated with Dr. Edward Cook in Hamilton, who had the body disinterred. The husband appeared to be greatly incensed that question had been raised to the nature of his wife's death.

Mrs. Wals was 63 years of age and had been married twice before she married Wals. Dr. Handley has asked Dr. Cook to advise him of the result of his investigation.

FATE OF CELEBRATION FOR FOURTH WILL BE DECIDED HERE TONIGHT

Whether or not Lima is to have a 1th of July celebration this year will be determined at Monday's meeting called for 7:30 at the Chamber of Commerce. Finances to defray the cost of fireworks and hiring at least one band for the day, will have to be raised in order to hold the celebration.

Lima has not had a celebration on the Fourth for several years, and there is some demand that one be held here this year. Members of the women's clubs in the city will be present at the meeting Monday night, and will ask that a part of any celebration planned be devoted to recognition of foreign born citizens.

ATTENDS MEETING
County School Superintendent C. A. Arganbright left Sunday for Columbus to attend a special meeting of school superintendents Monday. With him were I. W. Byerly, C. E. Bender, C. W. McCleary and E. E. Leidy. Allen-co district school superintendents. This meeting is for the purpose of explaining the new school code as it applies to county supervision of school work. They will return Monday night.

Two winners in the baby contest, the Dolly Wilson, Rolline Morrissey.

This is surely the age when the feminine sex is having its innings. There was no flattery for the male sex in the awards of winners in the inter-city baby contest just ended in New York city. Girls just ran away with the prizes presented by the Parent's Association. It was the seventh annual contest and the alleged weaker sex again displayed marked superiority in physical and mental development. Little Dolly Wilson won the first prize in the three to four-year class. Dolly is a movie star, having co-starred with Pearl White. Rolline Morrissey won the first prize in the two to three-year class.

FUNERAL SERVICE IS HELD FOR MISS KING

Funeral services were held Monday for Miss Margaret C. King, niece of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. King, at their home, 709 W. North-st. The Rev. Walter D. Cole officiated. Interment was at Woodlawn. Death occurred Friday evening.

Miss King entered into government service in 1918 and in 1919 was transferred overseas as stenographer in the ordnance department. She remained there for a period of nine months, being located at Tours, France. Miss King was one of the division of 50 who were chosen for overseas service. The armistice was signed shortly after her arrival in France, but the division was retained for service there some time afterward. Upon returning to Washington she was transferred to the bureau of insular affairs, where she was still engaged up to the time she returned to Lima, at the beginning of her illness.

Surviving are M. C. King and Miss Lou King, both of Lima, uncle and aunt; W. E. King, Kansas City, uncle, and Mrs. A. Dodge, South Bend, Ind., and Mrs. John Rowe, Van Wert, both aunts.

GIRL IS GIVEN GOOD ADVICE

Thinks Mother's action unwarranted and says she cannot forgive

Dear Miss Smart:
I am a girl 16 years old and several weeks ago I was invited to a party. My mother promised that I might go and of course, I planned to go. At the very last moment she said I couldn't go. It made me very angry and I don't think I can ever forgive her. Don't you think a girl of 16 is old enough to do as she pleases in some things?
SWEET SIXTEEN

S "Sweet Sixteen," you think a girl of 16 is old enough to do as she chooses? Surely you know that any girl—even if she has attained her 16th year must respect the wishes of her parents, providing they are reasonable.

Your mother made her request only because she thought it best for you. If it seemed unreasonable and unfair to you, it was only because you did not understand. She doubtless had a very good reason until the last bidding you to attend the party. Perhaps she did not know until the last minute who had been invited to the party, and that there were to be guests with whom she did not care to have you associate. Probably there were other excellent reasons which she did not care to explain at the time.

Do not continue to hold your present disrespectful and obstinate attitude toward your mother. Remember that you are only a very young girl who should obey her mother's wishes and forget the foolish belief that girls of 16 are old enough to "do as they please."

girl who should obey her mother's wishes and forget the foolish belief that girls of 16 are old enough to "do as they please."

Dear Miss Smart:
I am a very tall girl and I feel so conspicuous. Everyone notices me. Do people usually like tall girls or short ones?

MISS GIANT
Your height is not nearly so important as your carriage. Always carry yourself with grace and dignity and take pride in making a good appearance at all times. Some persons admire tall girls while others prefer shorter girls. Don't make such a great issue of your height, however. Remember everyone respects a girl who is not continually thinking of herself but is always cheerful and happy and making the best of herself, whether she be tall or short, stout or thin.

Dear Miss Smart:
Would you be kind enough to tell me how to remove grass stains?

M. A. T.
An answer to this was published some time ago. Simply rub enough butter to cover the stains then wash with ordinary soap and water. This will remove all traces of the stain and will not alter the color of the fabric.

MR. BILLINGS SPENDS HIS DIME

(By DANA BURNETT.)

"Ah! You saw me?" "I was in the shop next door buying some contraband silk pajamas. I saw you pass the door and ran out to speak to you. You were just going to the cafe. I said to myself: 'That's Billings, or I'm blind. But what the devil is he doing there?'—was alarmed, and knowing the reputation of the place, I followed into it. For the past hour I have been hiding in that hallway, awaiting every moment to hear you about for help," cried Mr. Billings, stopping upon the sidewalk and grasping the other's hand. "I am deeply grateful to think that you are not in the slightest danger. In fact, I was there on business."

"Business?" "Yes, I can't explain to you just how or why the circumstances are rather unusual. But it was business."

"Not at all, not at all!" protested Mr. Billings. "You have been— you have behaved nobly, yes, nobly!"

"It was nothing, really; shall we have lunch together?"

"Sorry," said Mr. Billings, "but I'm lunching at the Jockey Club— with a lady."

"Ah!" observed Mr. Brown. "Then I'll leave you here. I've not quite finished my shopping. See you again, perhaps."

Mr. Billings hailed a coach and after conveying the address to the driver by means of signs, words and facial contortions, was driven back to No. 3, Plaza de Palma, reaching there shortly before noon.

Donna Susana was waiting for him in her private drawing-room above the stairs. She had on a white lace dress and a large white hat that gave her an exquisite flow-erlike beauty.

To Mr. Billings, the afternoon that followed was one of pleasure, pride and profit. He drove with Donna Susana to the Jockey Club, an institution located upon the outskirts of the town near the sea, and landed there in a considerably polite society. Apparently it was a matter of public interest that he should be lunching with a lady.

After luncheon they ascended Donna Susana's box in the grandstand. The races began, Mr. Billings, who all his life had studied the morning pages of the newspapers, knew exactly how to comport himself, tho he had never been near a race track before.

An old man, very feeble and bent in body, came shuffling past the box with a trayful of native sweetmeats. He looked at Donna Susana in passing, and lifting his hand, scratched his right ear. The lady gave a slight start, then turning to Mr. Billings she said in a gay manner: "My dear Cousin John, you are very polite! But I know now anxious you must be to get down to the betting ring."

"Oh, no, really—" protested Mr. Billings.

"Nonsense! Of course you're anxious. It wouldn't be natural if you weren't. All men are born gamblers—not that I blame them! Only, don't bet too much, will you Cousin John?"

"—ah! No—not too much," replied our hero, who rather to his own surprise found himself a moment later wandering about in search of the betting ring. Not that he particularly wanted to bet. But Donna Susana had seemed to expect it—he must live up to her estimate of him.

Meanwhile, the ancient vendor of sweetmeats had turned back upon his course and was passing once the box of Donna Susana. This time the lady leaned forward impulsively and addressed him.

"Here! Wait, old man! Have you any chocolates?"

"No, senora, but I have other things as good."

"Come into the box, then, and I will choose!"

So the old man came hobbling into the box and held his tray for Donna Susana to make her selection from.

"I will have this and that," there in a low tone, she said: "You are the sweetmeat vendor."

"Ah—clever! I will have this one also. You bring news?"

"Yes, important news. Billings has had a conference with them and has told them—yes, senora, I am an old man with a family of ten! If the senora will only buy a little more! Ah, that is very kind of the senora."

"He has told them," whispered Donna Susana, again bending over the tray.

"All that they ought to know?"

"You mean—as to the fiesta?"

"Yes."

"Splendid!"

"The senora compliments my poor wares! At least, I have a splendid variety, which is more than most vendors have. You understand clearly? You will know how to proceed?"

Donna Susana placed a silver coin in the speaker's hand and looked up with a serene smile.

"I will know exactly how to proceed. Everything is quite simple now. You may keep the change, old man."

"Muchas gracias, senora! May the blessing of God be upon you and yours!"

The old man limped away. Donna Susana sat back in her chair and idly nibbled a marron. "Everything is quite simple, now!"

Mr. Billings finally found the betting-ring. It was located beneath the grandstand and was not a ring at all, but a long corridor.

Mr. Billings looked at the names upon the first blackboard. The last on the list was that of a horse named Lucky Dog.

A sort of premonition seized Mr. Billings.

"Lucky Dog?" he murmured. "I think I'll bet on that one."

He walked up to the bookmaker and said: "Excuse me, but has that Lucky Dog got any chances to win the race?"

"Surest thing you know!" replied the booky in good Americanese. "Didn't a turtle once beat a jack-rabbit? How much do you want to spend on him, mister?"

"Oh," said he coolly, "I'll bet a hundred."

The proprietor of the booth looked narrowly at our hero and said to his assistant with a new note of respect, almost of awe, in his voice: "A hundred on Lucky Dog? 'Tis win!"

Mr. Billings pocketed his ticket and strolled out to the track. The horses assembled at the barrier, were launched headlong, flashed swiftly around the track and came galloping past the judges' stand, with one roar, steed a good length to the fore.

"Number Seven," observed Mr. Billings, as the decisive numeral was set up. "Ah, that's Lucky Dog!" He said win, after all. I had a feeling that he would."

Hurrying back into the betting ring, he presented his ticket to the bookmaker. The booky gave Mr. Billings a dazed stare and began counting bills into the latter's hand.

One thousand—two thousand—Gawd! Who'd ever thought that bird'd ever cop the kale! Tree thousand—four—five! There you are, mister."

"Good Lord!" said Mr. Billings. "Did I—did I win all this?"

The other regarded him as tho he had been a novel and a peculiar specimen of the genus homo.

"Say, d'you mean?" tell me y'didn't know the Dog was a 50 to 1 shot?"

"Fifty to—oh, I see. I bet a hundred dollars for him! So naturally I win five thousand!"

"Naturally," echoed the bookmaker faintly. "Sure! Nat'ally!"

Mr. Billings placed his winnings in his wallet, which now had attained an inordinate plumpness, and strolling back upstairs, re-entered the box of Donna Susana.

"I can read your mind!" she said, smiling as he seated himself beside her. "You have bet—and you have won!"

"Only a little," replied our hero modestly. "Only a few thousand—five to be exact!"

"Five thousand dollars! You won that much, Cousin John?"

"Yes, he said carelessly. "But what is money, after all? Money isn't everything."

"No," admitted Donna Susana, "not when you have it. But five thousand dollars!"

They stopped on their way back to town to dine at a charming restaurant, with a terrace overlooking the harbor, and Donna Susana pointed out the great ship El Dorado of the Caribbean Line, that would sail the next night for New York.

"New York!" said Mr. Billings sentimentally. "How far away it seems!"

Afterward they drove into the city, to attend the half-jail, that marvelous game which has been called the fastest in the world.

About 10 o'clock there was a commotion in the entrance way: the crowd stood up and cheered and the band burst into the national anthem. President Juarez had arrived, with members of his staff. Some of the latter were in uniform and made a brilliant showing as they mounted to their seats. The president himself wore a frock coat and carried in his hand a silk hat.

His box was next to Donna Susana's. As he entered it he bowed to her and Mr. Billings.

Our hero, not to be outdone in the usages of diplomacy, rose and bowed to the president. Whereat the audience, thinking him a celebrity of some sort, applauded vociferously. Mr. Billings turned and bowed to the audience. Confirmed in its deductions, the crowd redoubled its acclaim. Mr. Billings bowed once more—right, left and center, as he had seen actors do upon the stage—then sat down with swelling heart and tingling soul.

"What delightful people!" he exclaimed. "So romantic!"

While under the influence of the exultation produced by this incident Mr. Billings had his inspiration. Turning to his hostess he said:

"Cousin Susana, I want you to come to supper with me at the Miramar!"

"Oh, Cousin John!"

"Yes, and—wouldn't the president like to come, too?"

"The president? Kiteban?"

"He'll come if you ask him, Cousin Susana. And I—I should really like to know him better."

Donna Susana smiled.

"Very well," she said, "I will try to arrange it for you."

She wrote a note which was conveyed to Juarez. The latter read it, looked across the boxes and nodded. "He accepts with pleasure," said Donna Susana.

It was decided that our hero should proceed alone to the Miramar and order the supper. Donna Susana and President Juarez would follow in the former's carriage.

Mr. Billings drove to the Miramar and sent for the proprietor.

"I want a private dining room."

"I regret, senora, unfortunately all the private dining rooms are occupied. There is nothing, senora, nothing but the grand ballroom."

"I'll take it," said Mr. Billings. "You can serve supper there, can't you?"

"Si, senora, but—that would cost a thousand dollars, senora!"

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

By PHYLIS PHILLIPS

Two hours later, after a heart-to-heart talk with Mrs. King, in which Cherry unburdened her mind of many things that had been worrying her for some days past, and as the two of them were having a hearty laugh at the whimsicality of life, came a ring at the phone.

Miss Laura went toddling over to answer it, and beamed at Cherry as she distinguished Mrs. Randall's voice at the other end.

"Why, good evening, Mrs. Randall. Yes, Cherry is here with me all safe. We've just bin havin' the best time ever, all alone, and she is the sweetest little girl that—Ned and you were worried? Why, that's too bad. When did you begin worryin'?"

Cherry's bin here two hours and more." Was there a "valley" in the gentle tones of Miss Laura's voice as she said this?

"Ned will come right, over and fetch her—an' yo whope I've not been putting any of my crazy notions into the child's head! Well, of all the ideas, Sally Randall, Cherry has no need of any words from either you or me. We've the old generations and our ideas don't in no ways fit in with the new and the sooner we understand this the better for the world. Maybe it is 'rub bush.' Good-bye."

"That's Sally Randall all over. Arrogant, and opinionated as they come. Never learns anything different, either. You poor child, you, my advice is for never to rest till you Ned have a place of your own, where your voice will be the only 'master's' voice." Ain't a bit o' use for you two women to attempt to be happy with Ned, together. Sally's had her day, and now it's your turn. But that woman never will learn anything."

"Dear, dear, we certainly can't sit and fight about our 'rights' to Ned for the rest of our days," answered Cherry, sorrowfully. "I'd rather resign altogether. That's the way I feel now. Life was so sweet when he was courting me, and up in Honeymoon Hill. I can't bear to think of those days any more, now."

She finished with a sob.

"Here, here. What have we just planned between us, and thought about all evening. No more tears, deary girl. Red eyes never held a husband. And Ned will be here in moment, now. Come, fix up your nose—and fluff out your pretty hair, like a good girl."

"Here he is now," said Cherry with a gasp, vainly trying to dab some powder on her red nose before the entrance of her lord and master. Ned caught her at it and laughed loud at her funny expression of despair as she saw him walk in.

"Is my lady-bird getting all dolled up for a walk home in the dark with her own husband?" he queried, kissing her heartily.

"I'm so glad to see you, Ned, darling," said Cherry, throwing her arms round his neck happily.

DEMPSEY SAYS THERE'LL BE NO STALLING ON HIS PART IN COMING TITULAR BATTLE

(BY JACK DEMPSEY)

Right here and now I want to make this promise: I'm going into the ring on July 2nd for the sole purpose of finishing Georges Carpentier in the fastest time that it's humanly possible for me to accomplish the trick.

I pledge my honor with that promise.

Rumors have come to me—and to Jack Kearns, my manager—that I'm likely to go into the ring with the Frenchman and stall around for a few rounds "for the movies." It has been pointed out that if the fight ended in the first round the moving pictures would not go over big as a selling proposition, whereas, if the fight lasted several fast rounds they'd be worth a lot of money.

On fight day I will have no interest in those pictures. Kearns already has concluded a deal whereby we are taking a flat sum of money for our share in the pictures. Whether they sell big or sell little makes no difference to us.

WILL NOT STALL

The thought in the minds of some that because there'll be no official decision on this fight and I can't lose the title except on foul or by being knocked out has created the idea that maybe we'll stall thru the fight so as to get a return match. Nothing was ever farther from the mark than that belief.

I regard Carpentier as a dangerous foe. Any opponent who is fast and clever and who can hit with knockout force is a menace to me until he is in the floor and out. I am not going to take any chances with that Frenchman. I'm out to win from him the first minute I can. Nothing would make me happier than to win with a few solid punches in the first round—and without ever being hit myself.

KNOWS GEORGES IS DANGEROUS

I do not for a minute lose sight of the fact that I am defending the title against a foreign foe. The title is held now in America—and it rightly belongs in this country. If I am to be defeated it is my fondest wish that an American will do the trick. Yet, if I should lose to Carpentier, the chances are that no American fighter would get a crack at the title for years and yet more years.

The Frenchman has declared that no matter what happens to him in this fight he plans to retire immediately afterward. Should he win the championship, it would retire with him. The direct line of title, therefore, would be broken for if Carpentier never was defeated—if he were champion—no other man could gain unquestioned right to the crown. All that is well fixed in my mind. I know what would happen if the Frenchman won. I feel confidence, from the statements of Carpentier, that he wouldn't fight again. And the championship would go to Europe to stay there.

When I climb into that ring I want the American sporting public to know that I'm fighting to keep the title in America; that I'm in there only to win; and that as long as there's an ounce of energy in my body I'll keep on fighting—To win.

Dempsey Should Rest Larger Portion Of Time

By JACK McAULIFFE.

(UNDEFEATED LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPION.)

Great commotion and excitement have been caused here because Jack Dempsey suddenly quit work. Any such worry is foolish.

I have not seen the champion do any boxing yet, but from what I hear, he should have cut down on his work a week ago. A young, strong fellow like Dempsey should not need much work if he has been living right. He has 19 more days before the fight. He ought to rest ten of them.

Dempsey is running chances every time he gets into the ring with his sparring partners because he works too hard and may get hurt by one of the big awkward boxers. He already has a badly cut eye and is likely to damage his hands. In the old days, we boxed as little as possible in preparation for a fight for fear of getting butted in the head or breaking our hands.

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, who has seen Jack work, told me today the champion is in perfect condition and his wind fine. That is the most important thing.

Georges Carpentier is not making a mistake in working hard, as I have pointed out several times. He works hard and rests a day or two and he will not go stale. He is being handled expertly. It looks just now as tho Dempsey were being handled equally well. I know what a hard boy he is to keep under restraint while training. If he is kept out of the ring for a week it won't hurt him.

NO MORE LOAFING FOR FRENCH GLADIATOR.

The loafing sign at Georges Carpentier's training camp gave way to one which read:

"Hard work will beat Dempsey."

The challenger began the hardest week of training with a long workout in the woods this morning, then came back for a bountiful lunch and prepared to take on several sparring partners.

Georges probably will work hard every day this week and it is known that he will spar more than has been the custom in the past three weeks. He will work in public but two days; today and Thursday. The other workouts will be as private as half a dozen county policemen and Manager Desamps can make them.

"We don't want secrecy," Trainer Gus Wilson said today, "but what we do want is privacy. There will be a lot of hard work done here this week and we can do better if there is no body around to bother."

Determination is written in bold letters across Carpentier's fighting face. As he prepares for the world's championship battle with Jack Dempsey the challenger's visage is being moulded into the stern lines of the warrior of old.

HEAVY HITTING MARKS WEEK IN MAJORS.

Unusually heavy hitting predominated in four of the five major league baseball contests yesterday. In the National the total for the Chicago-Boston game was 26. St. Louis-New York 25; in the American, Detroit-New York 31 and Cleveland-Washington 23.

The Chicago Nationals used enough players for two teams and outbatted Boston 22 hits to 14. The ring with 220 pounds to back up his blows.

Fitzsimmons danced about the heavy swinging Jeffries and sent home many a hard hitting fist. The force of these was impotent against the great hulk of the champion, however. The speed of the challenger was a great factor in staying off defeat in the early rounds.

Fitzsimmons took a heroic fight. In the deciding moment of the bout Jeffries sent a hard left hand smash against Fitzsimmons' jaw and followed it with another left to the stomach that knocked his lighter opponent to the floor.

Fitzsimmons' fighting power was crushed, but in his spirit. Badly fazed, he rose in an effort to continue. His strength was gone and he sank down and was counted out.

MANION RECALLED BY DETROIT CLUB

TOLEDO — Catcher Clyde Manion, released recently by the Detroit Americans to the Toledo club of the American Association, was recalled by Detroit yesterday and ordered to report at once at New York.

No reason was given for the recall. Roger Bresnahan said that he was under the impression Manion was to have finished the season here. Bresnahan announced also the release of Frank Okey, a left handed pitcher who was sent back to Detroit.

Bresnahan announced that the Toledo club had purchased Catcher Schaeffer from the Kalamazoo club of the Central League.

Morgan Entertains

RED TOP, Conn. — The Harvard rowing squad, numbering fifty-one men, Sunday were the guests of J. P. Morgan on his steam yacht Corwin on a trip thru Long Island Sound. The men went swimming in Gardner Bay, where the craft anchored for a time.

PRINTERS BEATEN

In a game replete with thrills, the Hartford All-stars of Conant, defeated the Lima printers aggregation at Conant Sunday afternoon by the score of 12 to 8.

The Printers are seeking to book games with fast semi-pro teams in this section. Any team desiring a game with the Typesetters should address communications to the Sports Editor of The News.

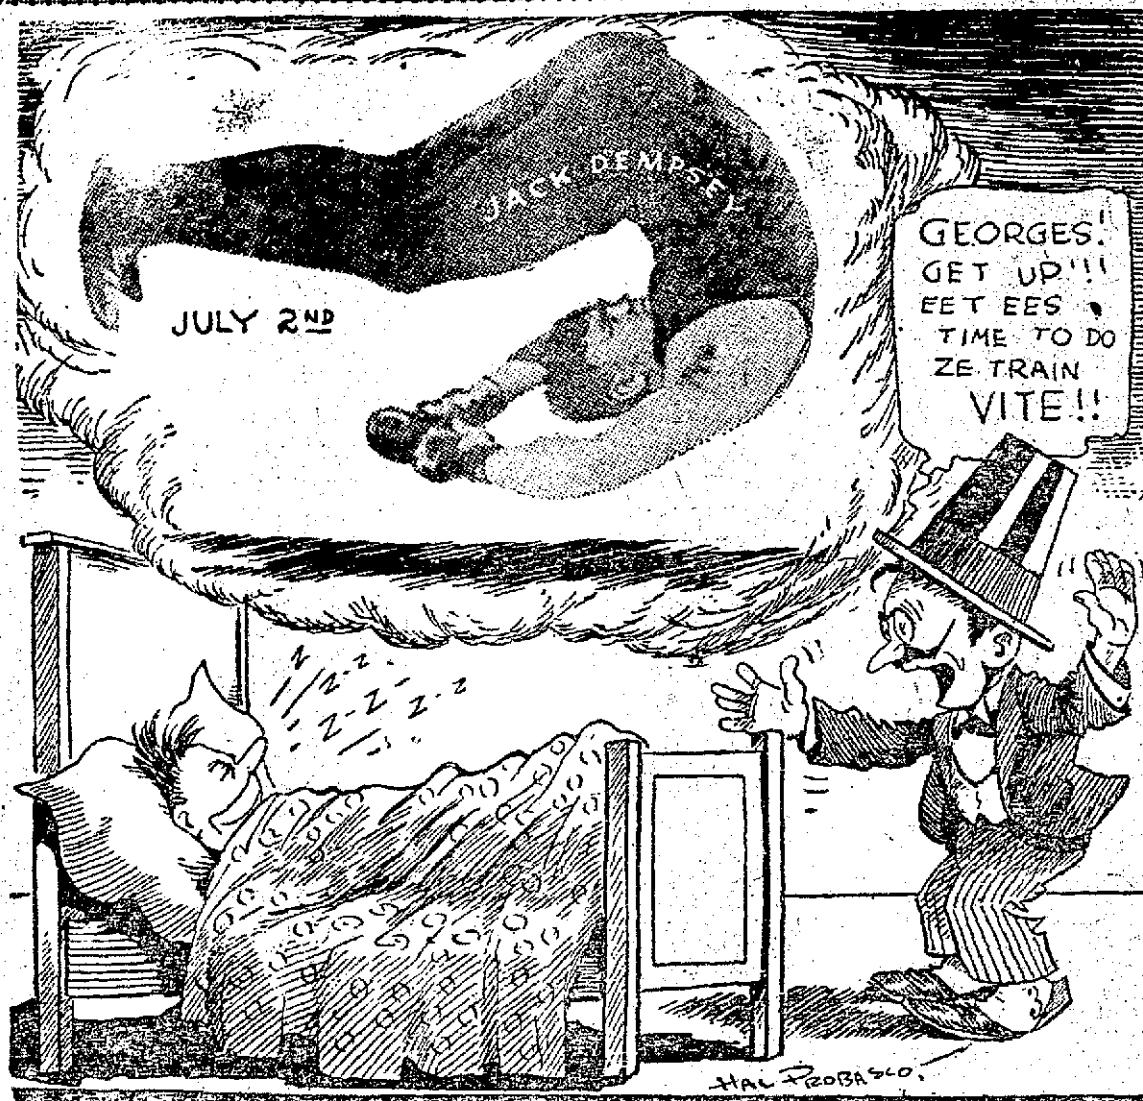

BIG BIDS REFUSED

Man o' War isn't the only high-priced member of his family. An offer of $100,000 for Play Follow, full brother of Man o' War, has been refused by J. F. Johnson, the New Yorker who owns the horse.

COTTAGE FOR JOHN

Johnny Kilbane leased a cottage near Lorain and is taking his fight stable there, including Alex Hart, Owen O'Mally, Al Siemer and George McLaughlin, to train and keep fresh during the off-season.

OH, WHAT A BEAUTIFUL DREAM!

Their coming battle doesn't seem to bother either Jack Dempsey or Georges Carpentier when they hit the hay for the night, according to reports from both camps. The gladiators sleep like babes. Wonder what they dream about? It must be tough to have a nice little dream like Carpentier's having above and then be summoned rudely to enter on another day's grind to get in trim to meet the bird you've licked once in your sleep. The picture of Dempsey was taken recently while he was going through some exercises to strengthen his stomach and back.

LEMON PIE BLAMED FOR SUICIDES

Trivial Causes Responsible for Deaths

12,000 CASES IN 1920

Save a Life League Helps Those in Mental Anguish

NEW YORK — Divorces, congested living conditions, and enactment of the Eighteenth Amendment are given as probable causes for the alarming increase in the number of suicides in 1920, according to reports received by officers of the Save-a-Life League with offices in New York City. Dr. F. L. Hoffman, statistician of the organization, estimates the number at not less than 12,000. Of these reported cases 707 were children, he said, the boys averaging 15 years, the girls 16.

Rev. Harry Warren, president of the league, also declares that restrictions in sale of narcotic drugs helped to swell the total of unfortunate deaths who died by their own hand.

Dr. Warren cites many trivial causes as the impelling force for suicide. One man was distressed because his new suit did not have enough buttons on the sleeves of the coat. Another man rebelled at eating a lemon pie his wife had concocted out of turnips and glucose. A youth killed himself because he was asked to eat ham and eggs for supper. A woman became morbid because her husband refused to pay for her clam chowder. A couple disputed over whether the bedroom window should be opened at night or not less than two feet at night. The wife's argument prevailed, and the man killed himself. Many of the suicides reported are among prosperous individuals, and Dr. Hoffman argues that no one sane reason can be assigned for the suicidal increase.

Dr. Warren believes it is possible to cut down the growing number of suicides by making it more difficult for adults and children to obtain poisons and deadly poisons. He argues that children be definitely instructed as to the sin and futility of taking one's own life.

The Save-a-Life league was founded a few years ago to cope with the suicide problem. It offers the chance of encouragement, Dr. Warren says, to persons in mental anguish who may be tottering on the edge of self destruction.

Dr. Warren has three methods which he says are of value in reaching individual cases of world weary persons. One is spiritual counsel, another calm reasoning, and the third timely financial assistance. The principal thing, he says, is to reach quickly the mentally tortured and advise them to look on the brighter side of life. He says he has found it an easy matter to turn persons to lives of usefulness and profitable service.

EVENTS PLANNED FOR Y. M. C. A.

A camp reunion will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Friday night at 8 o'clock. All the boys who attended the Y. M. C. A. camp last year and their parents are cordially invited to be present, also all others who would be interested in either going to the camp August 1, at Clear Lake, or having their boys attend. The program and plans for the camp this year will be thoroughly discussed and some of the old campers will tell of their experiences at camp last summer.

Wednesday evening at 7:30 the council of the Federated Churches of Lima will meet at the Y. M. C. A. for an important meeting. Mr. T. R. Hamilton, president, will preside.

A swimming campaign for boys will be conducted at the Y. M. C. A. during this week. An opportunity will be given every boy in Lima between the ages of 12 and 16 years who does not know how to swim, to acquire the art, whether he is a member of the Y. M. C. A. or not. Those wishing to take swimming lessons are asked to register at the Y. M. C. A.

There will be a special meeting of the board of trustees at the Y. M. C. A. Friday noon.

COLUMBUS GROVE TO CELEBRATE

Business Men Subscribe $1,000 for July 4th.

COLUMBUS GROVE—(Special)—Fireworks galore will mark the celebration of Independence day in Columbus Grove. The electrical display will start early in the evening and continue late into the night.

Committees appointed to look after features of the celebration have concluded their work and announce one of the greatest celebrations in this part of the state. Business men and citizens have contributed more than $1,000 for the celebration.

From towns adjacent to Columbus Grove have come reports of attendance by the hundreds, despite the celebration is some weeks away. A large calibre cannon will arouse the citizens and surrounding country north of July morn. The gun is now on its way here for the celebration.

There will be plenty of band music and strobos. A fantastic parade will be held immediately after the noon hour and ball games will feature the afternoon. The band concert in the evening will be followed by the fireworks. Airplane flights will be made. Columbus Grove is making preparations to entertain the largest crowds in many years.

LIMA BOY HAS LEADING PART IN COLLEGE PLAY

Allan Harter, son of Rev. and Mrs. Otis Harter, 674 S. Elizabeth-st., will take the part of Crichton in "The Admirable Crichton," which will be presented by the senior class of Wooster College to Wooster Monday evening.

This year's graduating class is the largest in the history of the college and includes among its members the winner of the National Oratorical Contest, the Rhodes Scholar from South Dakota and Ohio's best all around football player.

50,000 SHRINERS IN DES MOINES

Forty-Seventh Convention Will Open Tomorrow

PULLMAN CITY FORMED

5,000 Tourists Encamped in State Fair Grounds

DES MOINES, Ia.—(By Associated Press).—Trainload after trainload of gaily uniformed Shriners poured into Des Moines today, and by tonight more than 50,000 red fezzed Shriners and their wives and families, coming from all parts of the continent, will be in the city in readiness for the convening of the Forty-Seventh annual session of the Imperial Council, Ancient Arabic order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, tomorrow morning.

A city of ten thousand inhabitants, who are living in their Pullman coaches during the Des Moines meeting, has been created in the railroad yards, where 400 coaches are parked. Sidewalks have been built, electric light service installed, sanitary arrangements made and telephone service supplied to every car. More than 5 miles of trackage are occupied by the coaches.

Among the delegations which arrived today were special trains from Zamora temple, Birmingham, Ala.; Karam temple, Waco, Tex.; Eljelbel temple, Denver, Colo.; Almas temple, Washington, D. C.; Aladin temple, Columbus, O.; Wahabi temple, Jackson, Miss.; Mohammed temple, Peoria, Ill.; Kismet temple, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Osman temple, St. Paul, Minn.; Zuhrah temple, Minneapolis, Minn.; Molla temple, St. Joseph, Mo.; Midian temple, Wichita, Kans. and Moolah temple of St. Louis, Mo.

More than 10,000 automobiles bringing tourist parties to the council are parked in the official parking space today, and thousands more will arrive tonight. Five thousand Shriners are encamped on the Iowa state fair grounds, having brought their equipment with them.

MANY APPLICATIONS ARE IN FOR SWIMMING CLASS

Between 60 and 65 applications have been received for the free swimming lessons to be given by the Y. M. C. A. to the boys of the city. Many more are expected.

Instructions were started Monday afternoon at 2:30 and each boy is given a 30-minute lesson. It will be possible for each boy to learn the fundamentals of swimming in three lessons, although more will be given if the individual cases demand it. Morning classes will be arranged should the enrollment be large enough.

The claquers in the Buenos Aires theaters, men and boys whose vocation is to create applause, have demanded the right to be unionized as a regular part of the theatrical profession.

BOLSHEVIKI FORM 20 REPUBLICS

Tiny Communes Have Very Little Power

RIGA, LATVIA — (By Associated Press).—The Bolshevik government is rapidly dividing the old Russian Empire into a large number of tiny Soviet republics, each having some autonomous authority. In addition to those ethnological units, such as Poland, Latvia, etc., which broke away from Russia on their own accord, there are now at least 20 so-called autonomous republics within the borders of the old Empire.

Ranging in size from little communes, including only a few thousand population, to the great district of the Ukraine, these "republics" occupy, it is estimated, more than one third of the area of the old

Russia in Europe, while the various Siberian and Asiatic states occupy so much of the old Empire beyond the Urals and south of the Caucasus that very little of the old Russia in Asia remains directly under control of Moscow—on paper.

The complete text of the Bolshevik decree, granting "autonomy" to the republic of Turkestan, recently published in the Moscow IZVESTIA, shows, however, that at least in one of these republics, the autonomy is extremely limited. The decree reserves to the Central government at Moscow all matters of foreign relations, foreign trade and military matters in Turkestan.

To some of these "autonomous" districts or nations the Moscow papers give names so different from those appearing in gazetteers and atlases that their exact location is extremely difficult to ascertain.

DORRIS RESIGNS

D. W. Dorris, custodian of Memorial Hall, has tendered his resignation to take effect July 1. He will enter another line of work. It is understood that there will be a hot fight when the county commissioner select his successor.
